

Remote Access and Data Collection via Trane USB Cellular Module

The Trane USB Cellular Module is a cellular solution for connecting a Tracer BAS or connected Symbio equipment controller to the Trane Cloud. This solution provides connectivity to enable Trane Connect Remote Access and Data Collection without compromising security as it communicates on a private cellular provided network between the site and the Trane cloud.

